Bring your Youth Group to a mission adventure high in the Rocky Mountains!

Rocky Mountain Mission hosts youth groups for a week of outreach, to pair eager young people with opportunities to serve, surrounded by a stunning natural environment that helps them feel God's place in their lives.

Over the last four years, we've welcomed groups from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Nebraska, Texas, Minnesota, Montana, Indiana & Colorado, to serve in many ways. Groups have worked on maintenance for homes of the elderly, built nature trails and ramps for people in wheelchairs, and helped re-build a home for a man who had been homeless. Some have worked on recovery from a flood and a wildfire. Many have served at our summer homeless ministry, VBS, and worked at the Food Pantry garden, which serves hundreds of people a year. Groups have helped set up our town emergency preparedness center and clothing closet. During your week at RMM, you'll participate in four 8-hour works days, doing mission in the community and with our neighbors! Bring your work gloves and get ready to sweat!

When your group comes, we offer a mountain-oriented curriculum for daily reflection and Bible study, as well as group activities around campfires and on scenic overlooks. For your free day, choose to hike in Rocky Mountain National Park or hop in a whitewater raft – be prepared for cold snow runoff! Young people and adult advisors sleep at the church (max 20 people, with your own air mattresses and ground pads), which has two bathrooms (showers are now only a short walk away) and a kitchen to prepare most of your meals, with a couple dinners prepared for you by some of our awesome church families.

For 2019 we are offering six weeks of service, from June through August.

Our Work Coordinator is already lining up projects, and our Community Coordinator is prepared to bring your group closer together and closer with God. And the fee is only $125 per person! (Scholarships available.)
